HUGHES' TALK MEETS WITH FULL APPROVAL

G. O. P. Convention Strongly Endorses Coolidge Administration—Concludes Session in 40 Minutes

MACHOLD POPULAR

No Gubernatorial Booms, But Speaker's Name Draws Great Applause When Mentioned—Roosevelt Unlikely

New York, Apr. 16.—Delegates to the Republican state convention today unanimously tuned in on the keynote struck by Secretary of State Hughes last night and burst into the 1924 campaign with a program of national issues and a strong endorsement of the Coolidge administration.

Re-assembling at Town hall for the second and last day of the convention, it took the 988 party representatives—men and women—just 40 minutes to conclude their business.

They elected State Senator Parton Swift of Buffalo permanent chairman, heard him set forth party issues for the state; adopted a platform constructed entirely of national issues; elected seven delegates-at-large and seven alternates to the Cleveland convention, and adjourned sine die.

Complete harmony marked the proceedings. Delegates will go to the national convention uninstructed. The unanimity with which President Coolidge and his works were endorsed left no room for doubt, however, that the New York state vote was to be solidly for the President.

Machold Seems Gubernatorial Choice.

No gubernatorial booms were launched, but it was obvious that H. Edmund Machold, Watertown, speaker of the assembly, was leading all candidates now mentioned for the nomination.

In the hotels, in the lobbies of the Town hall and the national Republican club, the speaker's name was the only one discussed. Whenever his name was mentioned, at the proceedings last night and at the deliberations today, there was an outburst of applause. The applause did not originate among the delegates of any particular county. It seemed to be spontaneous, whether from New York city or upstate.

The friends of Theodore Roosevelt, assistant secretary of the navy, privately admitted that the tide was not running in his direction, at present.

Probes Impede Business.

The platform might almost have been an abstract of Secretary Hughes' address. It began by offering the "record of the last three years and the program submitted by our President to the congress as proof of our right to the renewed confidence of the people," and ended by eulogizing the "calm resolution, quiet dignity, and firm insistence on orderly justice," as exemplified by Mr. Coolidge, "in happy contrast to the unfair, disorderly, partisan, and demagogic attempt" by investigators at Washington "to destroy the confidence of the people in their public servants."

The platform set forth that these proceedings in Washington have "impeded the public business, insulted the intelligence of the people, and lowered the dignity and standing of the senate."

Adoption of the tax measure pending in congress and perpetuation of the protective tariff system were the chief planks of the platform, which was characterized as "neither a history nor an all-inclusive program, but a declaration of faith and of purpose."

Make Partisan Accusations.

The [illegible] policy of the existing administration, both in the general field of business and in the conduct of [illegible] affairs, was credited with having lifted the nation from a [illegible] commerce, widespread unemployment, poverty and distress, to an era of prosperity and plenty and an economic life of restored vigor.

Democrats were charged with having "[illegible] opposed for partisan purposes the comprehensive and scientific plan for immediate tax reduction and reform" which the treasury department had submitted to congress and which the platform urged adoption of as of paramount importance to all the [illegible].

The administration's tariff enactments, its foreign policy, its efforts toward international disarmament, its diplomatic dealings with other nations [illegible] Americas, its attitude toward the League of Nations [illegible] were [illegible] as having been promoters of prosperity at home, peace and [illegible] abroad."

[illegible] PROTECTION WEEK.

Albany, Apr. 16. — The week beginning next Sunday was designated as "[illegible] week" in a proclamation [illegible] today by Governor Smith, [illegible] that period citizens of the state are requested by the governor to pay particular attention to furthering efforts to reduce losses from forest fires [illegible] annually [illegible] as one to lumber and [illegible].

SUCCEEDS DR. PRUDDEN.

Albany, Apr. 16.—Governor Smith today appointed Colonel Frederick [illegible] of Brooklyn as a member of the public health council of the state to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Dr. T. Mitchell Prudden.

MISSING FLIGHT COMMANDER SAFE

Major Martin Forced to Land Because of Leak in Crank Case—Greater Care Ordered

(By the Associated Press)

Chignik, Alaska, Apr. 16. — With all four of the United States army planes flying around the world safe tonight, resumption of the flight awaited rehabilitation of the flagplane Seattle, which was compelled to descend yesterday 130 miles north east of here because of a hole in the crankcase.

Major Frederick L. Martin, pilot of the Seattle and commander of the globe encircling squadron, was rescued at 9 o'clock this morning by the United States destroyer Hull, in Portage bay. The commander, his mechanic, Sergeant Alvah Harvey, and the flagplane were being taken today to Kanatak on the Alaska peninsula, 170 miles east of here, where the plane is to be repaired and made ready to continue the flight. The next leg of the flight will be from here to False Pass, 220 miles southwest. It had been planned to fly to Unalaska (Dutch harbor), 400 miles from here, but it was decided later to make the trip in two stages.

With orders from the war department en route to them to keep within sight of each other in the future, and with greater care being exercised as they approached stormy Bering sea, the aviators are expected to chose the way carefully from here on and bide their time for pleasant days.

Flight Delayed a Week.

(By the Associated Press)

Anchorage, Alaska, Apr. 16. — Continuation of the flight around the world by the United States army aviators will be delayed at least a week in order that a new engine may be installed in the cruiser Seattle which was forced down yesterday near Cape Igvak, according to a wireless message received here from Major Frederick L. Martin, pilot of the plane.

Major Martin, commander of the army flight squadron, sent his message from the destroyer Hull, which is taking him and his plane to Kanatak, at the head of Portage bay.

FOUR GRAND JURORS IN OIL CASE NAMED

Senate Oil Committee Is Seeking More Witnesses—Action of Hamon's Widow Puzzling

Washington, Apr. 16. — While the senate oil committee was seeking additional witnesses today so as to carry forward its inquiry, first steps were taken in the District of Columbia supreme court in the selection of a grand jury which is to consider the criminal charges cropping out of the oil investigation.

Four jurors were chosen out of the first panel of 23 and Justice Hitz directed that an additional panel of 150 be summoned for April 25 on which day the court will reconvene after the Easter recess which begins tomorrow. It is expected that the additional 19 jurors can be drawn on that day and the presentation of evidence begun soon afterward.

Process servers of the senate succeeded late today in locating William Procter of Cincinnati. Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, prosecutor of the oil committee expects him to be here tomorrow for questioning when the public hearings will open.

Papers Probably Burned.

Mr. Procter, who largely financed the campaign of Major General Leonard Wood for the Republican presidential nomination in 1920, was in New York when the subpoena for him reached Cincinnati.

Members of the oil committee were somewhat puzzled today by a published statement of Mrs. Georgia Hamon Rohrer, widow of Jake L. Hamon, Republican national committeeman from Oklahoma, that she would not come to Washington in response to a committee subpoena, and that any papers relating to her husband's political conections probably had been burned a month ago.

IMMIGRATION BILL DELAYS ACTION ON SOLDIER BONUS

Washington, Apr. 16. — While consideration of the soldier bonus bill in the senate continued to await disposition of the immigration bill today, Senator Curtis, Republican, Kansas, in charge of the bonus measure, completed plans to have it taken up immediately after the immigration measure.

Senator Reed, Republican, Pennsylvania, in charge of the latter bill, after making an unsuccessful effort to limit debate, announced he would ask for a night session tomorrow.

Meanwhile attention was again centered on the pending tax reduction measure with the return to Washington of Senator McCormick, Illinois, a Republican member of the finance committee, who recently announced he would seek a compromise among Republicans for higher surtax rates than carried in the Mellon schedule adopted by the committee.

CLARA KIMBALL YOUNG ILL.

Fort Wayne, Ind., Apr. 16.—Clara Kimball Young, actress, lay seriously ill at a hotel here today following a sudden collapse last night while she was appearing at a theatre.

Physicians indicated today that she was slightly improved after a night's [illegible] it is feared she may have to cancel all her engagements for several weeks.

The breakdown was said to have been brought on by overwork.

GERMANY ACCEPTS EXPERTS' REPORT ON REPARATIONS

Distinction, If Not Difference Among Delegates Seen in Interpretation

SEES NO HIDDEN MEANING

American Delegate Says He Really Thinks Berlin Intends to Collaborate

(By the Associated Press.)

Paris, Apr. 16.—The German government has accepted the experts' reports as a practical basis for the solution of the reparations problem. The reply of the German government was handed to the reparation commission, and there was much enthusiasm at reparation headquarters when it became known that Germany would collaborate with the commission in the settlement of this difficult trouble on the basis set forth by the experts.

The text of the reply follows:

"The German government has the honor to acknowledge the receipt of the note of the reparation commission of April 11, concerning the experts' report. The German government considers the report offers a practical basis for a speedy solution of the reparation problem. Therefore, it declares its willingness to collaborate in the execution of the experts' plans."

Sees No Hidden Meaning.

One of the American delegates characterized the German reply as "a precise answer to the question the reparation commission asked the German government."

"I would not try to seek any hidden meaning in it," he said to the Associated Press correspondent. "I really think the Germans are going to collaborate and earnestly try to live up to a reasonable and practicable arrangement."

France, Great Britain, Belgium and Germany now have announced their acceptance of the experts' report, and Italy's acceptance is expected soon.

Already there appears to be a distinction, if not a difference between the interpretations of the German reply by the reparation commission and the German delegation. The latter says that acceptance means that negotiations will be necessary in which Germany will have equal footing with the others. The British prime minister's acceptance is regarded here as virtually unconditional. While Premier Poincare's reference to the report needed touching up, it is held to be a forerunner of reservations.

ALLEGED KLANSMEN FAIL TO APPEAR

Town Hall Packed — Many Supposed K. K. K. Members and Legionnaires Present

Binghamton, Apr. 16. — The four alleged Klansmen who signed affidavits admitting their part in a last week's raid on the Central hotel in Marathon, following their arrest on charges of disorderly conduct, failed to put in an appearance at today's hearing in the case of Robert L. Rice, Cortland county kleagle, charged with inciting to riot. They had been summoned as witnesses and their failure to appear caused District Attorney Albert Haskell to ask for an adjournment until May 1.

The town hall at Marathon was packed to the doors when the hearing was called, many failing to gain admittance. Automobiles brought hundreds of supposed Klansmen and as many of the American Legion members from nearby places and the cars of the visitors lined the streets of the village. Most of the witnesses examined today are Legion members who told of being accosted by hooded figures during the raid on the hotel and of subsequent events when the raiders [illegible] alleged to have driven a car at high speed into a group of the former soldiers, injuring 16 of them.

WIFE OF BINGHAMTON LAWYER ENDS OWN LIFE

Ithaca, Apr. 16. — Mrs. Alice Wilber, 62, wife of Cortland A. Wilber, a prominent Binghamton lawyer, died in the City hospital here today, a victim of suicide. Mrs. Wilber who had been in ill health for a number of years, had been visiting her son, David Wilber, an instructor in Cornell university.

On last Sunday night, Mrs. Wilber, unaccompanied, went to a cemetery near her son's home, and swallowed several poison tablets. She was later found by a party of Cornell students and was removed to the hospital. Her husband was formerly corporation counsel for several terms in Binghamton and has been prominent in Democratic politics there. He is now a law partner of former Lieutenant Governor Harry C. Walker in that city. The remains will be taken to Binghamton for funeral and interment.

FIND PRISONER DEAD

London, Apr. 16. — The correspondent of the "Daily Mail" at The Hague reports a case which strikingly illustrates the infrequency of arrests in some parts of Holland. A man arrested about the end of March in a little town near Utrecht has just been found dead of starvation in his cell, the writer says, the authorities having forgotten that they had a prisoner.

EXCLUSION ACT ROUSES JAPANESE NEWSPAPER

Tokio, Apr. 17. — The Yorozu Choho, an afternoon newspaper representing the Jingoes, declares editorially today that the action of the American congress in passing the exclusion legislation amounts to a challenge to Japan. It says the nation must prepare for whatever may come, even war. The Kokumin demands the immediate resignation of the ministry.

JAP AMBASSADOR'S WORK DISAPPROVED

Exclusion Act by Congress Comes in Midst of Heated Political Campaign

(By the Associated Press.)

Tokio, Apr. 16.—Dissatisfaction in high official circles with Ambassador Hanihara's handling of the immigration situation at Washington is reported by the vernacular press in today's editions. Other Japanese ambassadors are said to have rallied to the support of the Washington envoy and will oppose any possible effort to make him the scapegoat of the exclusion fiasco.

The Kokumin frankly states "Ambassador Hanihara's letter fully represented what the Japanese nation wants to say.

"While it is officially denied there is any difference between the views of Tokio and Hanihara, it is admitted "that considerable annoyance" is felt regarding the ambassador's use of the expression "grave consequence."

Numerous public bodies, including the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Japan, the American Japan society, and the Japan economic society have called urgent meetings to discuss the immigration question.

Officials do not deny the probability of unpopular reactions and it is fully expected that the opposition will made all possible political capital from the government's immigration defeat. The action of congress comes as a blow in the heat of an election campaign throughout Japan.

Inflammatory campaign speeches, public indignation meetings, resolutions, and bitter editorials are all expected as an aftermath of Washington's exclusion legislation. The government, however, asserts it will do it utmost to curb popular indignation and maintain the fullest possible friendly relations with the United States.

SIX CHILDREN LOSE LIVES WHEN FIRE DESTROYS HOME

Bridgeport, Conn., Apr. 16.—Samuel Ehrik, 11, who died of burns in a hospital today, was the sixth victim of the fire which late last night destroyed the home of Frederick Ehrik and snuffed out the lives of five other children. The children were trapped and burned to death in the home, which was formerly a barn of the Greenlawn club on Fairfield avenue.

The father of the six children is in the hospital, seriously burned. The mother died a year ago. The elder Ehrik, who was asleep in a bedroom with his son, Samuel, fought his way through the flames to the street with the boy, but was unable to do anything to save the other children, asleep in the bedroom in another part of the house.

New York, Apr. 16. — An attempt to broadcast by radio the communion service so that people in their homes may take part in the ceremony will be made on Good Friday by the West End Presbyterian church. The Rev. A. Edwin Keigwin, pastor of the church, has invited radio users of all faiths to "listen in" on the services.

The Daugherty committee heard new charges by Gaston B. Means relating to former Attorney General Daugherty and [illegible] of irregularities in the administration of [illegible] property under the Wilson administration.

THAW MAY TAKE STAND IN OWN DEFENSE TODAY

Cross Examination, However, Not Probable Until Monday's Session of Court

APPEARS VERY OPTIMISTIC

Repeated Mention of White and Electric Chair Dampens Enthusiasm Only Momentarily

Philadelphia, Apr. 16. — Harry K. Thaw is expected to take the witness stand in his own behalf tomorrow at the jury trial to determine his sanity, Judge John M. Patterson, chief counsel for the Pittsburgh millionaire, announced at the conclusion of today's session of the case.

According to plans of his attorneys, Thaw will be examined at the forenoon session of court. Cross examination probably will not begin until next Monday.

"Cheerio!" was Thaw's greeting to bystanders as he left for lunch, after expressing eagerness to appear as his witness. His optimism prevailed despite several incidents that might have proved unnerving to him. Repeated mention of the name of Stanford White, whom he shot and killed in 1906; and allusion to the electric chair by counsel for the trustees of the Thaw estate who are opposing his release, failed to dampen his spirits except momentarily. The presence of his former wife, Evelyn Nesbit, at prior sessions, while arousing his interest, has so far produced no visible effect upon him.

Thaw Very Optimistic.

"I can't tell how the trial is going yet, but I'm hoping," was his comment. "I was hoping they'd get through today and let me have a chance. I want to testify and let them judge for themselves."

Testimony of alienists occupied the major part of today's session of court. Cross-examined by William A. Gray, counsel for Evelyn Nesbit, whose 18-year-old son, Russel William Thaw, has been permitted to intervene in the proceedings, Dr. George Wilson, neurologist, at the University of Pennsylvania, stated that he had examined Thaw twice and consulted records of the asylum where Thaw has been confined since 1917, and believes Thaw is sane.

WHEELER INQUIRY READY TO START

Hearings Will Begin Today—Many Witnesses From West Arrive in Capital

Washington, Apr. 16. — Senate investigation of the indictment of Senator Wheeler, Democrat, Montana, prosecutor of the Daugherty committee by a federal grand jury in his own state will get under way tomorrow before a special committee of which Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, is chairman.

Gordon Campbell, a geologist of Great Falls, from whom Senator Wheeler is accused in the indictment of accepting money for prosecuting oil lease claims before the interior department after his election to the senate, probably will be the first witness.

Campbell arrived here today from Montana. He was accompanied by James Baldwin of Butte, law partner of Senator Wheeler, and former representative Thomas Stout of Lewiston, who also has been summoned before the committee.

Blair Cohan also arrived here today from Montana to appear as a witness. He was summoned as an agent of the department of justice, but W. J. Burns, director of the bureau of investigation, has stated that Cohan is an agent of the Republican national committee. Several officials of the department of the interior also will be called before the committee, together with additional witnesses from Montana.

A change in the personnel in the investigating committee was made today by President Cummins of the senate, Senator McNary, Republican, Oregon, being named to replace Senator McLean, Republican, Connecticut, who resigned because of pressure of work, owing to his duties as chairman of the banking committee.

AVIATORS MAKE LONG FLIGHT WITHOUT RECOURSE TO MAPS

Albany, Apr. 16. — Two aviators hopping off from Dayton, O., this morning, headed their plane in the direction of a crow's flight to Albany, kept the needle of a long-distance compass bearing on zero, and, without reference to maps or topography, landed some seven hours later within a short few miles of their destination.

The distance covered was 570 miles, of which more than 200 was traveled above the clouds and out of sight of the earth. The maps in the plane were sealed at Dayton and unsealed in the presence of newspapermen here. The aviators depended entirely upon the compass, and declared at the end of their flight the new instrument is a success.

MANY BUILDINGS BURNED.

GIRL SAVED AT NIAGARA'S BRINK

Man Wades Into Water, Carried Off Feet, but Finally Pulls Girl to Shore

Niagara Falls, Apr. 16. — A young high school girl from Buffalo was rescued from death at dusk tonight at the brink of the American falls by Alexander Danoditch of this city. Danoditch says he saw the girl jump into the water from the Three Sister island and he waded far out into the stream and grabbed the girl's clothing as she was swept toward the falls by the swift current.

Fannie Mantell, 15, a first year student in Hutchinson Central High school, is the girl he saved from death. She was taken to Danoditch's home after her rescue and later to a hospital. She was severely bruised from contact with the jagged rocks in the river bed.

Rescuer Carried Off Feet.

Danoditche says he was walking around Goat island and the Three Sister island when he noticed the girl sitting alone on a bench and crying. He said he passed her several times, being interested by her despondant appearance.

Just at dusk, he said he saw the girl arise, run to the water, and fling herself into a deep pool. He was about 100 feet from the girl. The swift current carried her rapidly downstream, and Danoditch dashed into the water, being swept from his feet several times. He managed to grab the girl's dress as she was being carried toward the brink of the cataract a few hundred yards distant.

Then began a desparate struggle, but Danoditch finally dragged the almost unconscious girl to the shore.

LODGE ENDORSES COOLIDGE'S STAND

Says President Entirely Within His Rights in Action on Senate Investigations

Washington, Apr. 16. — Another tier was added today to the rhetorical defenses being raised in the senate against the criticism of President Coolidge for his stand in the controversy arising from activities of the internal revenue bureau investigating committee.

Senator Lodge, Massachusetts, the Republican leader, declared the President was well within his rights in calling the senate to task for permitting one of its committees to "vastly exceed the authority," and asserted that the committee's program had reached the point where it could only be aimed at Secretary Mellon personally.

"There can be no question," he asserted, "that the purpose was to seek something relating to the character of the secretary. Like an honest man, he proceeded to answer at once. The President was well within his constitutional authority in bringing the matter to the attention of the senate; he only followed innumerable precedents set by past Presidents."

Addressing himself to the speech yesterday of Senator Glass, Democrat, Virginia, which he described as "too important to permit to rest unanswered," the Massachusetts senator denied that the executive message had been designed to cover more than the incident arising from the decision of the internal revenue committee to authorize Senator Couzens, Michigan, Republican, the committee prosecutor, to employ Francis J. Heney of San Francisco to as "a personal counsel and investigator."

THREE ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE DIRECTORS RESIGN PLACES

New York, Apr. 16. — Three members of the board of directors of the Anti-Saloon League of New York resigned today. They are the Rev. David James Burrell, one of the original incorporators of the league in 1915; the Rev. H. H. Barstow, pastor of the Calvary Presbyterian church, Auburn, and the Rev. Otto T. Bartholow, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, Mt. Vernon.

Dr. Burrell assigned advancing years as the reason for his resignation. Dr. Bartholow said he believed the board needed a strong business man in his place, and Dr. Barstow, who recently suffered a serious injury through a fall, said illness and inability to attend the meetings prompted him to leave the board. Successors to the three clergymen will be appointed by the board of trustees of the league which meets in May.

SEARCH FOR POISONED FOOD.

Albany, Apr. 16. — Grocery store stocks in all parts of the state are being examined by inspectors of the state department of health farms and markets in an effort to locate supplies of a certain brand of corn, canned in 1918 for use of the American Expeditionary Forces in France and which recently has been found to be unfit for food. Analysis of the corn offered for sale in cities near Albany have shown, department officials said today, that the contents were in such condition that acid had removed the tin from the inside of the cans.

WRONG DOING CHARGED TO EX-OFFICIALS

A. Mitchell Palmer, Daugherty and Francis Burton Harrison, Former Governor General to Philippines Named

MEANS TAKES STAND

Carries Story of Bribe Taking Direct to Daugherty's Door by Repeating Statements Ascribed to Jess Smith

Washington, Apr. 16.—Two former attorney generals of the United States, A. Mitchell Palmer and Harry M. Daugherty, and one former governor general of the Philippines, Francis Burton Harrison, were accused of serious and personal wrong doing during rapidly shifting testimony today before the senate Daugherty investigating committee.

Only two witnesses were heard, one Gaston B. Means, investigator, long active in international and domestic affairs, and the other George W. Storck accountant for the department of justice, but out of the web of their stories were developed repeated accusations of monetary misconduct and later of default in department of justice prosecutions.

Carries Accusation to Daugherty Door

Means took his account of bribe taking straight to the door of Mr. Daugherty by repeating statements he ascribed to Jess Smith, the late companion of the former attorney general. He also confirmed and extended impressions left by Storck, whose testimony was a prolonged report of the investigation made by himself, upon the orders of John W. H. Crimm, former assistant attorney general, into the conduct of the alien property office.

In the brisk play of question and answer, Means described Mr. Palmer, "looking scared to death," coming out of Mr. Daugherty's office after charges against his administration of alien property had been pushed to the point of a mention of indictment.

Mannington's Name Mentioned.

One moment of the session the committee devoted to Howard Mannington of Ohio, when its "prosecutor," Senator Wheeler, Democrat, Montana, demanded the production of this witness by Mr. Daugherty's counsel, in spite of his own refusal to appear. He demanded likewise to know whether it was true that indictments had been returned in New York against Mannington and Jess Smith for liquor permit transactions but "hushed up." He was advised by George B. Chamberlain, of Mr. Daugherty's counsel, to apply to the district attorney for the information.

The other issues arose during the day, one in the hearing, when Means quoted William J. Burns, chief of the bureau of investigation of the department of justice, as advising Mr. Daugherty against pressing the Montana indictment against Senator Wheeler. The other developed after the hearing when the Western Union Telegraph company, by letter to the committee, confirmed its previous verbal refusal to give the committee any more telegrams exchanged between principals in the senate investigation.

ROTHENBERG WITNESS NOW RELEASED ON $5,000 BAIL

Catskill, Apr. 16. — Anna Sobin, 16, nursemaid, held as the "guest" of the Greene county sheriff and as a material witness in connection with the slaying last August of seven-year-old Howard Rothenberg, Newark, N. J., was released on $5,000 bail this afternoon. She will remain in custody of her attorney, Lester E. Smith of Catskill, who pleaded before Supreme Court Justice Roach today that the boy's mother, his aunt, and a third defendant in the case are at liberty on $25,000 bail and that $10,000 bail in which the [illegible] was held was excessive for a material witness. Motion to reduce the bail was opposed by District Attorney Charles E. Coffin.

Mrs. Esther Litt of Brooklyn, the boy's aunt, is scheduled to go on trial here June 2. Later his mother and Burtwell Branaugh of Windham are to be tried.

PIRATES WIN BURNING DUEL

Cincinnati, Apr. 16. — Pittsburgh won the second game of the season from the Reds today by the smallest possible score, after a great pitchers' battle between Cooper and Luque, in which the Pirate left-hander had just the necessary shade. The only run was scored in the ninth inning on Carey's single, a sacrifice, Carey's steal to third, and a single by Traynor. The Reds got only one man to second base, and none as far as third.

Braves' Ninth-Inning Rally Ties Contest—Boston Wins in 10th.

Philadelphia, Apr. 16. — Boston and Philadelphia played another extra-inning game today, the Braves winning in the 10th inning, 4 to 3, when Casey Stengle put the ball in the left field bleachers for the circuit.

A ninth inning rally by the Braves tied the score and saved them from defeat after it seemed certain that the locals would win. Tierney's sacrifice fly scored Cooney with the tying run in the inning.

The Cardinals threatened only in the fourth when Mueller tripled and scored on Bell's home run.

The veteran Alexander allowed 11 hits, but tightened in the pinches.

Weight Lifting Championships By Fay Murray

tionship will be held in Los Angeles on April 19th, and if the husky boys who toss the iron bar bells around do well enough it is quite probable that Uncle Sam will send a weight-lifting team to the Olympic games.

Two of the most promising entries are Dave Willoughby and Ed Goodman, both of whom will have the advantage of competing on their home grounds. Both of these boys are light heavyweights, and each one holds amateur weight-lifting records. Dave is an artist—not a blacksmith—and is only 22 years old, while Ed Goodman, who is 38, here shown posed as the discus thrower, is an attorney! Ed recently broke a world's record by lifting 107½ pounds held back of his neck while his feet were held down with another weight.

I once saw a weight-lifting exhibition where, after the athletes had struggled and sweated to perform the difficult "snatches" and "presses" before an admiring audience, along came the club janitor to clear the floor for the next act, and packed off two of the huge weights by himself as easily as could be. It started a riot.

UTICA MAY TAKE FRANCHISE

Amby McConnell Will Probably Manage New Team in New York Pennsylvania League.

Utica, April 16 — Utica will in all probability be represented in the New York - Pennsylvania baseball league, and Amby McConnell will likely manage the club. These were the outstanding developments yesterday after the announcement that a franchise will probably be granted local interests. Joe Lechich, well-known valley sports promoter, and Tom Kelly, local realtor, are the sponsors of the club.

John H. Farrell of Auburn, president of the league, was scheduled to have a conference with Mr. Lechich yesterday. He was unable to come here, however, but declared over the long distance phone that he would be here late this afternoon or tonight to settle matters definitely. It is expected awarded after today's meeting.

Mr. Lechich said Monday that Amby McConnell, former major league star, manager of the Knights of Columbus team last year and one of the most brilliant and popular players ever developed in this section, will be the manager of the club in the event that the franchise is granted. Mr. Lechich anticipates little trouble in agreeing on terms with McConnell.

Arrangements for the rental of the Knights of Columbus baseball park are expected to be completed today. Mr. Lechich declared that he had submitted his bid and that the details would probably be worked out tonight.

If the franchise is granted, players will report here April 22 and 23, giving a period of two weeks' time for training. The season is scheduled to open May 6. Mr. Lechich is planning exhibition games for April 27 and May 4.

The circuit is composed of Williamsport, Binghamton, York, Elmira, Scranton, Harrisburg and Wilkes-Barre.

It's for stiff, swollen, or pain-tortured joints whether caused by rheumatism or not.

A few seconds rubbing and it sinks right in through skin and flesh right down to ligament and bone.

It oils up and loosens up the joints, relieves the inflammation and reduces the swelling. Joint Ease is the one great remedy for all joint troubles and aches. John A. Shippey and other live druggists are dispensing it daily—a tube for 60 cents.

FOOTBALL RULES CHANGED

Several Drastic Measures Enacted at Meeting of National Intercollegiate Rules Committee.

(By the Associated Press)

New York, Apr. 16. — Fear that football may suffer from an overdose of legislation if rule-makers continue to amend the playing code every year, has been expressed by men close to the coaching situation in the country. Several drastic measures enacted for 1924 by the National Intercollegiate Rules committee will have a material effect on the game, it is thought, unless coaches comply with the spirit as well as the letter of the law.

The complete abolition of the kicking tee is expected to revolutionize the game to such an extent that coaches will lay more stress on the running and passing game, and confine the kicking art to the necessary drop kick.

The legislation against "passive interference" on the screen pass has been cleared somewhat, but it is still hazy, and violations will have to be decidedly open before any official will call them, observers believe.

"The solons in charge of the rules have apparently had the spectators in mind more than the participants in endeavoring to diversify the game," said one prominent authority.

"Coaches who have spent years in developing a kicking offense, find their years of labor discarded by the abolition of the artificial kicking tee, and must now either develop these booters into drop kickers or drop their kicking offense and revamp their attack."

The shifting of position for the try for point after touchdown from the five to the three yard line may revolutionize this play, especially so with kicking tees tabooed. Unless more passes or runs are made from this play, it is considered likely that the 1925 rules will contain a provision whereby a run or a pass from this play will net the attacking team two points and a kick one point.

GOLF AS CHAMPIONS PLAY IT

Under what conditions should club other, than the driver be used from the tee?

Answered by JOHN BLACK.

"The Carpenter of Troon," whose great generosity and mastery of golf make him feared at all tournaments. Particularly competent on approach shots.

The driver should always be used from the tee unless the distance you want to get in less than the driver calls for or unless there is some high object in front of the tee that calls for more elevation than the driver will give. Then you have to use a club with more loft to it. Which club you use will be largely a matter of confidence—brassie, spoon or driving iron. I have even seen very short, quick holes where it was necessary to use a mashie or niblick from the tee.

MY DAUGHTER WOULD CRY AT EVERYTHING

Nervous and Irritable. By Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Became Entirely Normal

Clinton, Wisconsin.—"My daughter was in a very run-down condition, and was irritable, and would cry at every little thing she was so weak and nervous. As Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had helped me when I was a girl I gave it to her to build her up, and the results were all that we could wish for. I wish that every mother with growing girls would try it for these troubles girls often have. I had taken it myself before my girl was born, and she was one of the nicest babies any one could wish to have. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to women and girls and cannot praise it too highly." — Mrs. I. A. HOLFORD, Box 48, Clinton, Wisconsin.

Mothers can depend upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve their daughters of those troubles they so often have. They know from experience the value of the Vegetable Compound in the treatment of these complaints and many, like Mrs. Holford, give it to their daughters.

OF A NUMBER OF THINGS

In erstwhile quiet Hartford, the spirit of the Pilgrims and Puritans has aroused the citizenship for the organization of a league for more peace and less noise in the Connecticut city. There is too much tumult, they believe, what with horns tooting at every street intersection, and with shrieking brakes and slapping chain tires. In order to make the protest more effectual, the promoters have had phonograph records of all sounds on Farmington avenue at certain hours of the day and is ready to demonstration what residents of that thoroughfare have to put up with. The exhibition ought to be effectual, even though the police may protest it as "cruel and unusual punishment."

A gratifying statement made this week by the State Charities Aid association is that the almshouse population of the state was less at the end of the year 1923 than at any time during the preceding years. In 1910 these institutions sheltered 10,-877 inmates, and in 1913 the total was 8,206. In spite of the steady increase in population, the decline in number of those requiring this care from the state has been steady. At the end of 1923 it was 79.1 per each hundred thousand of population; while in 1910 it was 108.5 for each 100,-000. The almshouse figures are certainly convincing proof of the general prosperity of the state.

A press dispatch of recent date notes the return to Brunswick, New Jersey, of Mrs. Edward W. Hall, the murder of whose husband and along with it that Mrs. Eleanor R. Mills, was one of the mysteries of September, 1922. At the time it was a crime which on account of attendant circumstances, was on every lip, but in so short a period it has been practically forgotten. For weeks in that year it was matter to which the reader turned with no diminution of daily interest; and yet it is safe to assert that many who saw this week's paragraph had to think twice before recalling the circumstances attendant upon the tragedy, so quickly, and perhaps so fortunately, do these things efface themselves from the memory of those not directly interested.

The early days of spring bring not only the birds from the south in abundance, but, making their exodus from every house, barn and refuse pile place of concealment, there come also the annoying house fly. While not as yet numerous enough to do immediate harm, there are enough of them to be noticeable, and enough to justify calling immediate attention to their presence. A little later "Swat the Fly" will be everywhere heard and seen; but it is well to note the fact that a little swatting now goes a long way toward reducing the necessity of it in the future. Ill health and nervous irritation both wait on the coming of flies "not single file, but in battalions." Therefore should all get busy, now before the necessity for activity becomes more obvious.

With the afternoon of Tuesday the big league baseball season in the United States got under way and was off with a swat and bang. So far as can be ascertained the appeal made for funds for Doubleday field met with no great response, if indeed the suggested appeal was made. The fact that though everybody goes to the games and everybody reads about them, there is no considerable response on the part of the magnates in a matter in which every lover of the national game should be interested. Baseball, in fact, so far as the sixteen big teams are concerned, seems to have become thoroughly commercialized. There were over 217,000 persons present at the eight opening games. Had one cent for each individual gone toward the Doubleday fund the receipts would have been over $2,000. Had one per cent of the receipts been given, it would doubtless have been over $5,000. That Big ball does not come forward for the Cooperstown memorial does not speak very well for the promoters of the game.

Out in Nebraska, so technically exact are the requirements of the law, a pound loaf of bread must weigh not less than a pound, and it must not weigh more than a pound. In several instances lately bakers have been detected in the reprehensible practice of selling pound loaves which were from one to three ounces over the fixed weight. The alleged violators of the law took the matter to the supreme court of the United States, the state court failing in redress, and the final resort tribunal at Washington has dismissed the actions on the ground that however it might be in short-weight loaves, nobody is injured by overweight, all which goes to prove that the United States court has some sense.

Home From South America.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Fremont Thompson returned last evening from their trip to South America. They report a very interesting and pleasant trip and express much admiration for Buenos Aires and Rio, which compare favorably with most European cities. As usual, however, they think the best place on the itinerary is at the end, Oneonta.

Hiram's Record.

Senator Johnson can now give a little more attention to his legislative duties. In the last three congresses he failed to vote on 43.7 per cent or 1545 out of 3205 roll calls. He was absent or not voting on the rail act in 1920, on the Fordney-McCumber tariff, on the bonus bill of 1922, the Newberry and the Teapot Dome resolution, as well as many other important measures. Now he can kiss his dreams goodby, stay in Washington better his roll call record and cease worrying about the White House.— Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Citizenship Denied for Cause.

Judge Erwin Cummins, of Washington county promptly and properly denied the petition of Andrew Harmison for naturalization when the applicant stated that he favored overthrowal of the American government. So-called liberals will, we imagine, feel outraged by this. The judge, in their opinion, has acted in a high-handed manner, set aside the constitution with its guarantee of the right of free speech, and a lot more of that sort of objection to protection of American institutions. But better balanced Americans will applaud the judge's course. — Pittsburgh Gazette-Times.

Beer Traffic in Chicago.

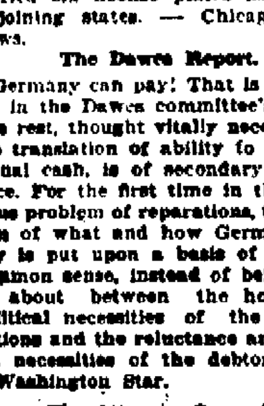

A suspicious odor of hops emanating from a truckload of poultry led to the arrest of three men and the confiscation of 35 barrels of beer by the Oak Park police in the western suburb this morning. Discovery of the beer was made by Officers Gill and McClellan, who had followed the truck for several blocks. Their noses told them the truck carried a cargo of something besides the crates of chickens visible to the eye. The car carried six license plates issued for adjoining states. — Chicago Daily News.

The Dawes Report.

Germany can pay! That is the kernel in the Dawes committee's report. The rest, thought vitally necessary to the translation of ability to pay into actual cash, is of secondary importance. For the first time in the vexatious problem of reparations, the question of what and how Germany can pay is put upon a basis of business common sense, instead of being tossed about between the hopes and political necessities of the creditor nations and the reluctance and political necessities of the debtor nation. —Washington Star.

The Attorney General.

Attorney General Stone celebrated his appointment by landing the largest trout in a prize-fishing contest. It is to be hoped that he will show equal skill when he casts his legal hook among the rascals who have been defrauding the government. — Chicago Daily News.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

SLEEP

You occasionally find that you can't sleep and wonder just what is the cause thereof. Very often you can trace it to some business proposition that is on your mind. Possibly some family worry.

It might be due to drinking some strong tea or coffee before retiring. When you can trace it definitely in this way there is of course nothing to do but put up with it for the time being, and try to be more careful thereafter.

However, you may perhaps find that you are getting the habit of wakefulness, and then it may begin to be a source of real worry to you. Now as a matter of fact most people get more sleep than they actually need, and many get more sleep than they think they get.

There can be no question but that the continuous loss of sleep is a serious matter, because it means that with the brain active, and the body more or less active, that the fatigue products are not thrown out of the system, and therefore such a one is bound to be tired all the time, and utterly unfit for mental or physical effort.

The big point to remember is that if you go to bed at 10 o'clock, and wake up at five or six, you've already had all the sleep you need.

Perhaps after waking at five, you doze off a number of times, and about the time you get up, you are quite drowsy.

This gives you the impression that you have lost some needed sleep, because you have the feeling that just as long as you are in bed you should be sleeping.

In a former article I said that many people could not sleep because they were afraid they could not sleep, and this very fear of what sleeplessness would do to them mentally and physically, was keeping them from sleeping.

Another thing for you to remember is that nature generally tells you when you need anything.

Do without food for a day or two and your appetite will come back.

Do without sleep for a day or two and your sleep will come naturally.

In the case of eating if you decide not to eat and just drift along without food, your appetite comes back because you've stopped thinking about food.

With sleep, however, you think about it, worry about it, try to coax it, and it is so much in your mind that it simply keeps you awake.

Go to your physician. Have him go over you and question you. If there is no physical ailment causing your sleeplessness go home and forget about it.

Every person has occasional periods of sleeplessness during his lifetime.

The suggestions given before should not be forgotten.

Lie down as if completely exhausted with arms and legs slightly bent. Breathe naturally and deeply.

Before retiring perhaps some light exercise, a bowl of hot milk, sometimes warming up the feet will draw the blood down from the head.

In any case don't worry about it. People don't die from lack of sleep.

HOOF AND MOUTH DISEASE

Now Rampant in Central and Southern California According to a Letter Received by Officer Terrell.

Officer Charles Terrell is in receipt of a letter from his brother, Ray J. Terrell of Burbank, Cal., which states that the hoof and mouth disease is [illegible] dairy and beef cattle in the San Fernando valley, and a fact throughout central and southern California. The ravages of the disease are so serious that long trenches are being dug and the cattle led to them and then shot and after being placed in the trenches are covered with lime to destroy the germs of the disease. It is said that 50,000 cattle have died of the disease in the territory affected.

Officer Terrell was formerly employed on one of the big ranches of the state and he states that dairying and beef cattle ranches are numerous there and one of the chief industries in the territory where the disease is rampant. Many of the herds affected are thoroughbreds and were valued highly. The disease had in no way been checked when the letter was written.

TO END SECRET MARRIAGES

Amend Law to Require Three Days Between License and Wedding Ceremony.

City and town clerks are awaiting word from the secretary of state as to when an amendment to the domestic relations law favored by the City Clerk's association, and which is believed to have been passed by the legislature during the last hours of the session, will become operative.

The amendment, if approved by the governor, would change the law governing the issuing of marriage licenses to require a lapse of three days between the date the license is issued and the time of the ceremony and all licenses so issued must be made public that the possibility of secret weddings may be eliminated. The only exception is made in cases where an emergency order is granted by a county judge.

The new law is expected to prove a blow to many Pennsylvania couples who come over the line of border countries to obtain marriage licenses without the publicity required under the Pennsylvania statute and it is thought the enforcement of the new law will prevent hasty marriages in the future and lessen the number of divorce cases.

THE GUIDE POST— BY HENRY VANDYKE

THE GOD OF TRUTH

His truth is a shield.—Ps. 91:4.

Humanity in its lower forms, unenlightened by the Divine Spirit, does not necessarily recognize the beauty and glory of truth.

Among barbarous races lying is not only a general habit, it is frequently regarded as a virtue: and even among civilized and cultivated races you will find people who can see no disgrace in it except that of being found out.

Many religions have been invented and believed—or at least men have believed that they believed them—in which falsehood plays a prominent part in the characters and actions of the gods.

Remember, for instance, the masquerades of the gods in Greek and Roman mythology, and especially the fabled performances of Hermes, who may be called the tutelary divinity of liars.

The Bible, on the contrary, represents the first sin as coming out of a belief that God would not really keep His word.

"Ye shall not surely die," said the evil spirit, and Adam believed him.

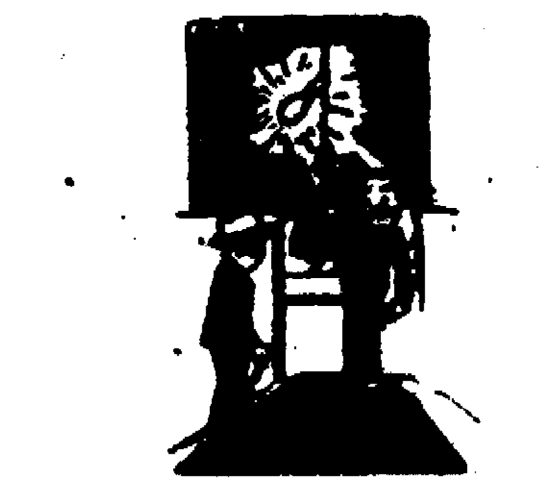

And as the first sin came out of the assumption that God might lie, so the second consisted in the fact that man did lie.

"The woman tempted me and I did eat."

That was the first falsehood of the great harvest that was afterward to spring from the idea that God could possibly be untrue.

Sheriff Converse Expects Ivan S. Tillinghast's Recapture in Near Future

Sheriff Robert R. Converse, from whose custody Ivan S. Tillinghast, wanted for second degree grand larceny, escaped in New York city while being brought back to Otsego county from Florida, tells a somewhat different story of the young lad's dash for freedom than was related in Associated Press dispatches. Sheriff Converse returned to Cooperstown yesterday.

Sheriff Converse stated to a Star representative last evening that, knowing Tillinghast to be a slippery youth, he had kept the young man handcuffed to himself all the way from Miami to New York city. They taxied to the Grand Central terminal at about 6:30 o'clock Tuesday morning.

They went into the station restaurant and Tillinghast was permitted to eat breakfast while still handcuffed to the sheriff. Then the sheriff cuffed together both hands of the young man and placed him in the custody of a station policeman while he ate his own meal. Suddenly Tillinghast made a dash for liberty and was soon lost in the crowd, handcuffs and all.

Sheriff Converse reports that the New York police are making strenuous efforts to apprehend the young man and that his capture is expected at any moment.

SOLVES ALL TROUBLES

Jefferson Lowman at River Street Church Asserts of Fourteenth Chapter of St. John.

In closing an excellent service of the evangelistic campaign which is being conducted at the River Street Baptist church, Jefferson Lowman, the boy evangelist, last evening suggested that in the promises of God as found in the fourteenth chapter of St. John might be found the solution of all of our troubles.

Following the usual opening song service, a testimony meeting was conducted by Mr. Lowman in which considerable interest was created, more than half of those in attendance at the session taking part. One of the most interesting testimonies was that offered by Amos De Blanchard of 43 Miller street. Mr. Blanchard is an elderly man, nearing ninety years of age, and he said that he had been following Christ for more to the best of his ability.

The text for the evening was "Echoes from the Upper Room," dealing with the last hours of Christ's life. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wells of this city sang as a duet "I Have Christ, I Need No More," which was excellently rendered and well received.

The general public is most cordially invited to all meetings.

The afternoon session of the Presbytery on Monday begins at 1:30 o'clock with a business meeting at which moderator and temporary clerk and the Presbyterial council will be elected, and at 4:15 the sermon by the retiring moderator, Rev. Dr. W. Courtland Robinson of Delhi will be preached, followed by the sacrament of the Lord's Supper, in charge of Dr. James C. Russell of Oneonta.

The afternoon session of Tuesday will complete the work of the session, which will include the election of commissioners, reports of delegates to synod and reports of standing committees, with unfinished business.

FREE EMPLOYMENT SERVICE

Chamber of Commerce Designated as Unit of Free Public Employment Bureau of New York State.

The Oneonta Chamber of Commerce has been designated as a cooperative unit of the Free Public Employment Bureau of New York state, according to a letter from Albany just received by Secretary E. J. MacEwan.

In accordance with the policy of the chamber to render real, tangible service to the community in its various problems, the matter of a public employment bureau was taken up some time ago with the proper state officials. Richard A. Flinn, chief of the Division of Employment of the state Department of Labor and an assistant director of the United tSates Employment Service, was in the city last week and discussed the matter at some length with Secretary MacEwan. Mr. Flinn has attained national prominence through various charts which he has prepared in conjunction with his work and because of the efficiency with which his department at Albany is conducted.

Mr. Flinn was of the opinion that the location of Oneonta midway between Albany and Binghamton really necessitates an employment office here that the territory may be thoroughly covered and he was certain that the necessary authorization, now received, could be obtained. Secretary MacEwan has been appointed special agent of the United States Employment Service.

The work of the bureau at this time is concentrated on the problem of providing help for the farmer and those who wish employment as farm hands are urged to register with Secretary MacEwan at once. Those wishing employment in other lines and employers in search of labor are also urged to consult with Secretary MacEwan.

SOLDIER BONUS

Rev. J. A. Judge Gives Pro and Con, Mostly Pro, Talk on Adjusted Compensation at Kiwanis Luncheon.

Rev. J. A. Judge, the beloved "Captain" of Oneonta ex-servicemen, defended the proposed soldier bonus in no uncertain terms in an excellent address delivered at the Kiwanis club luncheon yesterday noon, telling his fellow members that the country cannot make fresh again the seared souls of its ex-soldiers but that is can and should give them back at least a portion of what they lost in material things during the great conflict.

Captain Judge tried to maintain a humorous attitude throughout his discourse but he has the welfare of the ex-servicemen so a heart that he found it difficult not to strike a serious vein now and then. His subject was announced "The Soldier Bonus—Pro and Con," but he stated that he would have to talk about the "Pro" as there is, in his opinion, no "Con" to the matter, unless it be the "Con" which some of those who offered their all to their country brought back from France with them.

Captain Judge said that those who are now fighting for the bonus left their homes in '17 and '18 to fight and conquer the most perfect and powerful fighting machine that the world has ever know. All this for $30 a month while the war profiteer, in perfect security, was amassing millions. But the soldier did not get all of this $30, he said. Out of that sum came monthly insurance payments to insure financial protection for his relatives in case he were killed or disabled, allotments to his dependents, subscriptions for Liberty bonds, fines and deductions for loss of clothing or equipment. On pay days many soldiers actually owed the government money.

The soldier lost much in a material way during the war, Captain Judge declared, so why not help him back on his feet by giving him a little bit now when he is young and can make some use of it.

There was a large attendance of members at the luncheon and six guests, including the "Original Jack Dempsey," introduced by C. Frank Stevens. Attorney Dennis J. Kilkenny was welcomed as a new member by Dr. A. W. Cutler, chairman of the "initiation" committee. Rev. John W. Flynn announced that Rev. N. H. Lichliter of the Congregational church in Columbus, Ohio, would be the speaker at next week's luncheon.

EXPECT LARGE ATTENDANCE

Delegations From Many Cities and Towns Expected at American Legion Spring Banqt.

That the attendance at the annual spring dance of the American Legion, to be held at the state armory on the evening of Wednesday, April 23, with Vincent Lopez and his Hotel Pennsylvania orchestra furnishing the music, will eclipse that of any social event ever held in the city, is indicated by reports received by the dance committee from surrounding sections. It is expected that delegations will be present from Binghamton, Norwich, Walton, Cooperstown, Richfield Springs, Delhi, Hobart, Stamford, Sidney, Unadilla, Worcester, Cobleskill and many other communities in this vicinity.

The principal attraction is, of course, Lopez and his orchestra. The fame of this aggregation of supermusicians, is widespread both here and abroad and they are conceded to furnish the best dance music in the world. Not only are the musicians the best to be found but every selection they play has been arranged by Lopez himself, the country's foremost exponent of modern music. With the great leader himself at the helm the wonderful results that are obtained can be imagined.

Two pianos are used in the orchestra, Lopez himself playing one. It is costing the Legion $1,500 to bring the orchestra to Oneonta—a high price to be sure but the very best in any line comes high.

Miller-Strong Probing.

Attorney Frank C. Huntington left last evening for Buffalo, where he will attend as attorney for certain interested parties here a hearing in the bankruptcy proceedings instituted in the Miller-Strong Drug company. It is understood that there was an agreement with certain stockholders and creditors here with the refinancing committee which were not fully complied with and this feature of the case may be probed with the possibility of a grand jury hearing in the matter.

Linen Needed for Red Cross Work.

The work done by the ladies of the Red Cross yesterday afternoon consisted in the making of eight dresses and five pairs of bloomers. It is expected that the quota for Porto Rico will be finished at the meeting next Wednesday afternoon. A request is made for contributions of old linen for use in the layettes. This is necessary as a part of the requisition for Porto Rico.

A CHERRY VALLEY DEATH.

Mrs. Orecila S. Waldron Succumbs Following Illness of Two Weeks.

Cherry Valley, Apr. 16. — Mrs. Orecila Sharp Waldron died at her home on Main street Monday evening after an illness of two weeks. Mrs. Waldron in spite of her advanced years was remarkably active up until about two weeks before her death when she suffered a severe fall while about her household duties. Deceased maiden name was Orecila Sharp and the only daughter of the late Jacob Sharp who for many years conducted a tailor shop in this village. In 1891 deceased married William H. Waldron. Her husband died in 1902. Deceased spent her whole life with the exception of a few years in the house in which she died. Quite early in life she became affiliated with the Methodist Episcopal church and ever since had been one of its most liberal supporters. She was also a liberal giver in many other ways, and only recently gave very liberally towards the organization of the Boy Scout movement in Cherry Valley. Mrs. Waldron did not care for notoriety in any movement which she supported. Deceased is survived by two step children, Mrs. L. Bower Walling of Keyport, New Jersey, and William C. Waldron of Cherry Valley, New York, and three cousins, Mrs. Samuel Deal of Brooklyn, Mrs. Mary French of Ravena, Ohio, and Lyman D. Mereness of Sharon Springs. Funeral services will be held at her late home on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. Haven of the Methodist church officiating.

Mrs. Alice E. Wilber, wife of Cortland A. Wilber, law partner of former Lieutenant Governor Harry C. Walker former corporation counsel for the city of Binghamton, and interested in the Wilber Motors Corp. of this city, died Wednesday morning at 4 o'clock in the City hospital of Ithaca. Mrs. Wilber was 62 years of age and had been suffering from a general break down for the last two years.

Funeral arrangements have not as yet been completed, but probably the service will be held in Binghamotn.

Mrs. Wilber had been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Robert C. Bryand, in Niagara Falls for several weeks and went to Ithaca on Sunday to visit her son, David T. Wilber, who is a professor in Cornell university. She became seriously ill Sunday night and was removed to the hospital where all efforts to relieve her condition failed. Besides her husband, son, and daughter, mentioned, she is survived by eight grandchildren.

The sympathy of many friends of the family in this city will be extended.

DIPHTHERIA IMMUNIZATION

Toxin-Antitoxin Treatment Practically Safe and Certain Preventative of Dread Disease.

In accordance with the recent resolution of the Board of Health recommending that the school children of the city be given prophylactic injections of antitoxin as a preventative of diptheria, Dr. George W. Augustin, city health officer, is making preparations to administer the antitoxin to children whose parents approve of the treatment.

This immunization has resulted in the prevention of the disease in many communities and is recommended by all authorities on the subject. Dr. Matthias Nicoll Jr. New York state commissioner of health, has the following to say in regard to the giving of the toxin-antitoxin:

"Last year, in this state," said Dr. Nicoll, "there were over 18,000 cases of this disease and 1,400 deaths, most of the deaths being among children under seven. This is a rather astounding statement, when you stop to think that we have at our disposal, if we will only use it, a safe and practically certain preventative, which is commonly spoken of as toxin-antitoxin mixture.

"Fortunately, in progressive communities, the danger is becoming less from year to year. School officials, including the school physicians and nurses, are becoming convinced of the wisdom of protecting children against diphtheria and, if they can get the parent's permission, are giving toxin-antitoxin mixture to all school children entering the lower grades. At the same time they are doing many other things to prevent the spread, among children, of this and other diseases. If they can have the active cooperation of parents, the school can be made at least as safe a place as the home,—certainly much safer than the street.

"A child who has been given toxin-antitoxin mixture,—a simple procedure,—is protected during the danger period and probably for life. A school in which all of the children are thus protected,—'immunized,' as we say,—never has diphtheria epidemics to contend with.

"We have, so far, been emphasizing the importance of protecting school children but the children under school age are really most susceptible to diphtheria and most often die of it. They need protection at least as much as do the school children. So it is not advisable to wait for the child to go to school, nor, if he is in school is it necessary to wait until the school authorities ask for permission to protect your child. Have your family physician give the toxin-antitoxin mixture. It should be given at any time after the child is six months old. The doctor can get the toxin-antitoxin mixture from the state laboratory or through one of its numerous supply stations.

"In spite of our eighteen thousand cases of diphtheria last year, we are by no means discouraged. Health workers, school officials, physicians and parents are beginning to pull together; it is not too much to hope that, with the development of good 'team work' diphtheria may not only be kept out of school, but wiped out completely."

IS YOUR HAIR FALLING OUT?

We absolutely guarantee to stop falling hair, dandruff, and itching scalp within 30 days or refund your money.

After neglecting the matter of hair ailments for years the scientific world at last decided to give it attention. European and American specialists joined hands to find the remedy.

They first discovered that falling hair is replaced by new hair growth and that when such new growth does not occur, it is due to stagnation of the hair beds—but the hair beds are alive, not dead. With this knowledge the scientists made extensive research until at last, after months of tireless effort, they found a new ingredient that had the peculiar property of penetrating to these hair beds—and there stimulating new hair growth. This new ingredient kills harmful germ life, dissolves dandruff and dead tissue, cleans out the plugged up follicles, and regulates fat glands and the blood circulation in the scalp.

Thousands of people have already benefited from this latest achievement of scientific research. You owe it to yourself to begin the treatment today. Remember we absolutely guarantee to satisfy you in 30 days or refund your money. You risk nothing. Ask for Brim Scalp Treatment. Guaranteed by the Sunline company. ... W. Brooklyn, N. Y.

New Treatment For Varicose or Swollen Veins

Swollen veins are dangerous and often burst. Sufferers are advised to get a two-ounce, original bottle of Emerald Oil (full strength), at Slade's drug store, and start to reduce the veins and bunches at once.

Physicians recommend Emerald Oil; it is used in hospital practice and a small bottle will last a long time, because it is very concentrated and a little goes a long way. Apply night and morning with a soft brush as directed until the swelling is reduced to normal. It is guaranteed.

So marvelously powerful is Emerald Oil that enlarged glands, wens and even goitre disappear when used steadily. Advt.

Kentuckian Loses Two Long Races With Death

Harlan, Ky.—Half way across a continent and back again in a losing race with death on both occasions was the experience within a few days of C. W. Williams, prominent business man of Harlan. When Mrs. Herbert Mitchell, Williams' sister, lay at the point of death in Chicago, he received a message calling him there, and started to her at once. He reached Chicago a few hours after Mrs. Mitchell had died. Williams returned home and was resting from his hard trip and attendant sorrow when he received a message that his father, W. E. Williams of Lebanon, Va., was critically ill. Williams at once set out for his father's bedside, but a second vain trip resulted, the parent having succumbed a few hours before his son arrived. In the meantime, at Cawood, this county, Pauline Williams, a niece of Mr. Williams, had been burned to death. The three bereavements occurred within five days.

Clearing your stump land makes your farm "bigger"

PROFITABLE crops should be growing on that uncleared land of yours—productive instead of idle acres. And blasting stumps is so much cheaper and easier than it ever was before.

Dumorite is clearing land for many farmers around here. This du Pont explosive blows out your stumps at lower cost and gives uniformly effective results. Dumorite gives you one-third more sticks for each dollar with about the same strength, stick for stick, as 40% dynamite—and the slow, heaving action of 20%. It will not freeze or cause headache from handling.

Give us the chance to supply you with explosives this year. We carry large stocks of du Pont dynamites for all blasting purposes on the farm. Tell us your job and we'll tell you the cost.

ENGINEERING BOTH BABIES AND BUSINESS

Would you expect a woman who had adopted as her slogan, "Babies Before Business," to be written up in all sorts of magazines as an unusually successful geological engineer?

Ten years ago, when the two Gould kiddies were healthy, little school children, Nina S. Gould went back to her job of being an assistant geological engineer. In the office of Gould & Gould she has entire charge of reports, maps, cost estimates and enough other technical details to make the average woman—or man—blink. She's an honorary member of Chi Upsilon, a fraternity for women doing geological work.

Mrs. Gould found time, as the children's interests and her own led her outside home walls, to take an active interest first in the kindergarten club and then in the school patrons' club, to organize two Camp Fire groups, and to become an active member in a social study club.

At present she serves as the business women's representative on the board of directors of the Y. W. C. A., as vice president of the civic committee of the chamber of commerce, keeps up church and Sunday school work and presides over the Town club with 70 picked business women members and an active city-beautiful program. Also she goes to ball games with the children!

It's hardly fair to call Oklahoma City with its 110,000 people a gopher prairie, even though the Town club is still struggling with untidy chicken yards inside the city limits. Anyway Mrs. Gould's answer to "Would you like to move to New York?" was "No."

But a girl just starting? "A large city is too lonesome," advises this woman of many friends, "for the girl just going into business. She has far more opportunity for making friends in the smaller place. And as to success, if a girl is happy outside of business hours, she makes a more efficient business girl.

"A smaller city is the best place to live (which means to live, laugh and work), to rear a family, and a place where one may have a chance to grow into the life of a community; that is to become an integral part of the growth, development of the neighborhood, the city and the state."

Rural Mansions Become Hives of Small Homes

London.—A new use for English country mansions, which rapidly are becoming a drug on the real estate market, due to the inability of present-day owners to find means to keep up these homes in style, is forecast by an experiment being tried out in Rolleston Hall, the fine baronial mansion near Burton-on-Trent.

A syndicate which has purchased the former contents mostly of old families, and as Rolleston is situated in the heart of the Meynell hunting country, plans are being made to convert the hall into six separate houses.

The partitioning, which is unprecedented in the case of such a palatial mansion, will be carried out vertically and not horizontally, resulting in reconstruction into houses and not flats.

Christian Festival of Easter

THE Christian festival of Easter was grafted onto the pagan feast which ushered in the spring, and so some of our customs belong to one era and some to another. Haven't you often wondered what eggs had to do with the Crucifixion of Christ? As a matter of fact, there is no connection except an incidental one between the two. In pre-Christian days folks celebrated the renewal of spring and sunshine at the time of year when Easter now comes, and the egg, with its suggestion of new life, was the most natural symbol in the world. Christianity consecrated the idea, as it were, by coloring the eggs red as a reminder of the blood spilt on the cross—a custom which survives in France to this day.

The hot cross bun is another curious blend of heathen superstition and Christian symbolism. Many centuries before Christ little round loaves were baked and marked with a cross; some were even discovered in the ruins of Herculaneum, one of the ancient Italian cities which was buried by an eruption of Mount Vesuvius and afterwards uncovered and explored. Some say that these cakes were sacrificed and offered as an act of worship to the heathen gods of the day, particularly to the moon, called the queen of heaven.

Others assert that the cooks of that day were as practical as the toffee-maker of ours, who mark the toffee into small squares, so that it will break up more easily when cold.

Then came the Christians, who saw in this bread marked with their own sacred symbol a fit association with Easter. They made their Good Friday cakes from dough first used for the Host, and the buns were blessed by the priest and given out at the end of service in church. Worshipers reverently kissed the cross before eating the symbols, and believed that the eating of one would keep them from harm until next Easter.

For the same reason it used to be customary to hang a bun up in a house to bring good luck, just as the horseshoe is set over a doorway. In particular it was supposed to guard the house from fire—a real menace in the days when houses were of wood and thatched with straw and fire engines almost unknown.

Were you born on Good Friday? Legend has it that anyone so blessed possesses the gift of second sight. And if you have sufficient fortitude to turn vegetarian just for Easter Sunday, an old superstition promises you good health for a twelvemonth. It seems a rather [illegible], doesn't it?

Another way of insuring good health, which is much more drastic, but was often practiced in olden days by spartan maidens, was to leave a linen cloth out in a field all night, so that it became soaked with the cold spring dew. Then they washed themselves all over with the cloth, chilly moisture.

Another quaint superstition is the rather ridiculous custom of lifting or heaving, which is still practiced in some parts of the country. On Easter Monday the men lift the women, and on Easter Tuesday the women lift or heave the men. The process is performed by two lusty men or women joining their hands across each other's wrists; then, making the person to be heaved sit down on their arms, they lift him up aloft two or three times and often carry him several yards along a street. In other parts the men claim the privilege of taking off the women's shoes on Eastern Monday, and the next day the women retaliate.

Singing Fish.

The sapo fish, which lives under stones near the shore, is often called the singing fish on account of a peculiar humming noise that is made by its air bladder. Sapo is a South American name for various toadfishes, especially for the singing variety which is found along the California coast.

MAKES FAT PEOPLE SLIM

New York Physician Perfects Harmless Method of Reducing Weight

The loss of as much as a pound of excess fat a day with no harmful results is the record made by many patients of Dr. R. Newman, a licensed practicing physician of 286 Fifth avenue, New York, who announces that he has perfected a treatment which has quickly rid fat people of excess weight. What is more remarkable is the doctor's statement that he has successfully treated thousands of patients for fat reduction without change of diet or unnecessary exercise. It is also said that fat people who suffer from chronic rheumatism, gout, asthma and high blood pressure obtain great relief from the reduction of their superfluous flesh. Realizing that this sounds almost too good to be true, the doctor has offered to send without charge to anyone who will write him, a free trial treatment to prove his claims, as well as his "Pay-when-reduced" plan. If you want to rid yourself of superfluous fat, write him today, addressing Dr. R. Newman, 286 Fifth avenue, New York city. Dept. R. Advt.

Bombing of Cities to Feature Next Big War

Cleveland.—Belligerent nations will not try to kill enemy soldiers in the next war, Benedict Crowell, assistant secretary of war under former President Wilson, declared here in a recent address.

"The League of Nations is failing," declared Mr. Crowell. "The nation or group of nations which enters the next war adequately equipped with tanks, gas and airplanes will win a quick and probably decisive victory. In the next war governments will use sneezing or laughing gas, or anesthetics, to put men temporarily out of the fighting. Death-dealing gases were used less and less as the last war progressed, and that shows the tendency. A high ranking German officer said after the armistice that it was General 'Tank' and not the genius of Marshal Foch that turned the tide against the Germans.

"Airplanes will jump over armies and attack the directing brains behind. I believe that bombing cities is not justifiable, but will be carried out in the next war. Supply depots and junction points will be destroyed and the morale of the civilians behind the lines impaired."

Valuable information about gasoline and motor power. Send coupon.

Two years of tests prove this:

You can get greater power —yet save 30% on gas!

Your motor was built to deliver a lot of power. If you haven't been getting it — blame the gasoline you've been getting.

Now, you can get power—speed — quick starting — lightning pick-up. And you can save 30% of what you've been paying for gasoline yearly.

38 cars tested 2 years

Our engineers have just concluded a 2-year period of tests on 38 different cars. They used PUROL gasoline—and kept accurate records, which prove:

PUROL gives 3.3% greater mileage; saves 14.2% of the fuel that usually drips down into crank-cases; saves $2.98 in lubricating oil for this reason; and saves $10.33 in general repairs through the greater efficiency of lubricating oil that is not diluted.

The average car uses 500 gallons of gas yearly. So the first two savings equal $17.50 (87½ gallons at 20c). The four items show a total yearly saving of $30.81—30% of the yearly gasoline bill for the average car!

Because "built" for full power

There's a real reason for the performance of PUROL. And that is that it's refined, or "built" to give fullest efficiency in your motor.

All gasoline is made up of combustible units.

From the first 10% of these units you should get quick starting. From the next 10% — lightning pick-up. From the rest, resistless pulling-power, speed, mileage.

These are precisely the combustible units you get in PUROL. Because it is refined to possess them. We found out what gas should do in a motor. Then produced PUROL to do it. Then made the tests to prove it.

Make a test of your own

Drive for just an hour with PUROL and feel the increased power and flexibility it gives your motor.

Get it at any Pure Oil Service Station, or dealer's. You'll know them by the pumps painted "Pure Oil blue."

You'll find PUROL always uniform. Giving the same efficient service a month or a year from now as it gives today. Make a test.

Why Girls With Yellow Teeth Are Unpopular

No girl with yellow-stained teeth can be popular—no matter how attractive she may be otherwise. A girl may have a pretty face or a pleasant personality—yet if her teeth have a yellowish look she cannot be truly charming to men.

Men admire personal daintiness in a woman more than the clothes she wears. Notice the girl with pearly white teeth—she has a charm and attractiveness that is always lacking in the girl with yellowish teeth.

Yet there are still many girls with dull, dingy teeth who have not found out that teeth stains and discolorations can be completely removed by using a new scientific treatment recently perfected. This marvelous discovery is known as Bleached-Dent Combination. Contains a mild liquid which quickly softens and loosens the hardened stains which cling to the teeth so that they can be gently removed by the special kind of paste included in treatment. Once the stains have vanished Bleached-Dent Combination will prevent the formation of future stains and keep the teeth beautifully white—always.

This wonderful treatment, while it completely cleans the teeth, does not affect the enamel as its mild ingredients are especially combined to act only on surface stains. Men always admire sparkling white teeth. So get Bleached-Dent Combination (containing both liquid and paste) today. Small cost. For sale at all good druggists. Advt.

CALLED TO MEREDITH.

Rev. Charles A. Weed of Hamilton Invited to Accept Pastorate.

Meredith, April 16. — At a meeting of the Meredith church and congregation held last Sunday evening, April 13th, a unanimous invitation was extended to the Rev. Charles A. Weed of Hamilton, to become pastor of the church.

The action was taken upon recommendation of the official boards of the church. Mr. Weed has been supplying the pulpit of the Meredith church since the Rev. Otis A. Dike was taken ill.

Mr. Weed is the son of a clergyman. He worked his way through college in Ohio by teaching. He left college when the war broke out and enlisted and was a victim of the hurricane which caused such havoc in one of our southern camps. Mr. Weed was invalided by the exposure resultant upon this storm and spent many months in an army hospital, from which he was released just as the armistice was signed. He then determined to fulfill a long cherished desire to study for the ministry. He is now taking a post graduate course at Colgate and will receive his Master's degree at the June commencement.

Mr. Weed is married and has two young children. During his stay at Meredith he has greatly endeared himself to the entire community. He is an experienced Scout leader and has won the hearts of the boys by organizing a Scout troop.

He is an acceptable and helpful preacher, is a considerable musician, and it is earnestly hoped that he will accept the call which has been extended to him.

Gold Star Twice Stolen From Tablet to War Hero

Woodbury Heights, N. J.—The borough council here has offered a reward of $25 for the arrest and conviction of the person who has twice removed a gold star from in front of the name of the borough's only soldier who lost his life while serving in the World war. The borough placed a bronze tablet on a huge bowlder in the center of the town containing the names of all its representatives in that conflict.

Last July it was noticed that the lone gold star on the tablet had been plucked out and interested citizens had another star placed thereon. A few weeks ago this second star was found to be missing, and a quiet investigation was made. The borough finally decided that the matter should be given publicity and offered the reward.

Near East Art Items Bought by Museums

New York.—Art museums, including the Metropolitan, the Art Institute of Chicago, the Boston Museum of Fine Arts and the Rhode Island School of Design were active bidders at the sale of Frank Gair Macomber's collection of Near Eastern art, in the galleries of the American Art association recently.

The most important of half a dozen purchases by the Metropolitan was a Saracenic inlaid bronze lamp from Egypt, Twelfth century, for $275. The Boston choice was a wrought steel hinged key, Persian, Twelfth century, $270. Chicago's most costly purchase was a lustre bowl, Twelfth century, $300. Providence got a Twelfth century Sultanabad bowl for $130.

E. Tabbagh paid $2,500, top price of the sale, for an illuminated manuscript, supposed to have been the property of Shah Jahan, builder of the famous Taj Mahal. D. Kelekian paid $1,000 each for a fragment of an Ispahan mosque carpet and for a Ghiordes prayer rug of the Sixteenth century. The collection of 259 items brought $18,633.

Army School of Business.

The supply officers of the United States army make annual expenditures of public funds mounting to many millions of dollars in times of peace and billions in time of war. That they may perform this important service with the greatest efficiency an army school of business has been proposed by the assistant secretary of war, Col. Dwight F. Davis.

Human Heart Beats.

The human heart beats something more than 35 million times per year. Such an industrious organ opens the way to difficulty. Recognition of this fact and a resulting consideration and care would offset a lot off suffering from heart disease.

For the first time—a laundry soap that is really modern!

Because it is entirely dissolved
this new soap rinses out thoroughly

There are no bits of soap left sticking to garments to turn them yellow under the iron—there cannot possibly be—because Rinso is all dissolved into a rich cleansing soap solution. This solution has more cleansing power than bar soap—it soaks dirt out.

HOW hard you have to rub with bar soap to "soap" the clothes. Then how hard you have to rub to get out all the dirt.

And that isn't all! You still have to struggle a lot more to get out all the soap you had to rub in. Today you don't have all this work to do. A wonderful new soap now soaks dirt out.

WITH Rinso—the new kind of laundry soap—you are spared the drudgery of washday—that old hard rubbing. Simply soaking your clothes in the rich soapy Rinso solution loosens all the dirt.

Be sure to use enough Rinso to get big lasting suds after the clothes are in. Then even all those mean grimy places—cuff edges, neck bands, etc.—come spotless for you with only a light rubbing.

Then a good, thorough rinse takes out not only all the dirt, but also all the soap! Your clothes are snowy white the way you love to have them.

Rinso is made by the makers of Lux. Already over a million packages are used every week by progressive housewives.

Get Rinso today from your grocer—regular size or big new package. Lever Bros. Co., Cambridge, Mass.

TO Elizabeth Bayle, Margaret VanDusen, Gardner Folts, D. J. Smiley, Van A. Smiley, May Rogers and Robert Bradley:

The foregoing summons is served upon you by publication, pursuant to an order of Honorable Abraham L. Kellogg, a Justice of the Supreme Court of the State of New York, dated the twenty-ninth day of March, 1924, and filed with the complaint in the office of the Clerk of the County of Otsego, in the Village of Cooperstown, Otsego County, in said state.

The object of this action is to make partition according to the respective rights of the parties and, if it appears that partition cannot be made without great prejudice to the owners, then for a sale of the following described property:

All that tract or parcel of land, situate, lying and being in the City of Oneonta, County of Otsego and State of New York, and described in a warranty deed dated December 27, 1880 given by Peter V. Fort to Emma G. Williman, and recorded in Otsego County Clerk's office December 4, 1881, in Liber 184 of Deeds at page 194; also described in a deed given by N. J. Ford to Emma G. Williman, dated August 13, 1881, recorded in Otsego County Clerk's office, August 16, 1881, in Liber 188 of Deeds at page 512; and being the same premises upon which the Williman Block now stands, and as to which Emma G. Williman died intestate on March 16, 1923.

New York, Apr. 16.—Stock prices registered further improvement on a small volume of business in today's market. Short interests again furnished most of the buying power, which was particularly effective in the sugars and industrial specialties.

While the prompt acceptance of the Dawes report by Great Britain, France and Germany has had cheerful effect on speculative sentiment, domestic trade news continued to be the dominating factor in the determination of price movements. Recent trade reports which include predictions of an early advance in California oil prices and net earnings of approximately $6 a share on United States Steel common in the first quarterly report which will be made public April 29, have had a tendency to restrict commitments on the short side of the market.

Money loans on Wall street brokers are now estimated at approximately $1,320,000,000, the lowest in about two years and a reduction of about $30,000,000 since March 21. Brokers' borrowings have been declining steadily since the first of the year when they totaled about $1,400,000,000.

United States Steel closed unchanged at 97½. Baldwin which had touched 112⅛ in the early trading, dropped back to 110⅞, also unchanged. Studebaker closed nearly a point higher at 85⅝, after having sold a point above that figure. American Can crossed 99 and then fell back to 97⅜, up three-eighths.

Fisher Body was the individual feature, soaring 19 points to 219 on reports that the General Motors corporation, which owns 60 per cent of Fisher Body stock, was negotiating for the minority interest. Other strong industrial specialties were Corn Products, which closed three and one-half points higher at 167½; Woolworth, which closed at 312⅞, up four and one-fourth, United States ... which moved up three and one-half to 133½, and United States Cast Iron Pipe, up two and five-eighths at 74½.

Continued heavy selling of Japanese government 6½s, which established a new low price of 90⅛, failed to depress the bond market today, and prices of other foreign and domestic liens turned upward, United States treasury 4¼s reached a record high level of 101 4-32.

The improved market tone manifested today, it was felt in bond circles, was the forerunner of better investment business, which would be helped by the diversion of funds due to current trade dullness.

Exhibit B Meets Exhibit A

John Daniel II, the baby gorilla recently arrived from the jungle, seemed quite unconcerned as to his possible fate when taken to the American Museum of Natural History to see John Daniel I, who died as the result of contact with civilization, and was stuffed for exhibition. Scientists watched with interest the meeting and the picture shows Professor J. H. McGregor looking on, in company with Mrs. Alice Cunningham, the gorilla's trainer. Johny Sarno is holding John II.

AGRIGRAPHS

Grafting isn't a sinister word when it's used in the orchard. Bridge grafting may save many a good tree.

Leaving the stable manure exposed in the barnyard is one way some farmers have of throwing away money.

Do you live merely in a "rural region," or in a real "country community?" What do you do towards its activities?

Looking over the tile drain outlets and cleaning out those that need it is a good spring job that may save money later.

Uncle Ab says that the longer he lives the more sure he is that adding to other's happiness is the surest way of adding to his own.

Every dead ear of corn may mean 900 stalks missing from the field. Test seed. Learn how, in bulletin E 26 from the state college at Ithaca.

"Vitamin" is hardly in the dictionary yet; it is the name given something that no one has yet seen. But the presence or absence of vitamins in food has a known effect on growth and health. Leafy foods and milk contain a growth-promoting vitamin.

WILL LEAD "GREY GHOSTS."

Tim Jordan, Beloved of Yore, Will Appear as Playing Manager.

New York, Apr. 16.—Written in letters imperishable is the name of "Tim Jordan" in baseball's "Hall of Fame." Now comes the announcement that Tim, the famous old diamond star of yesteryear, will appear himself, as a playing manager of the All National "Grey Ghosts."

Tim Jordan, Christy Mathewson, and Hans Wagner compose the trio whose departure from the national sport caused universal regret to the followers of baseball.

That deadly thing, called time, may have led Tim by the hand from the "big show," but thousands of older fans throughout the country will rejoice when informed he has offered his manly traits of character, his kindly ways and his sunny disposition, to guide a younger circle of players; and that he himself, has returned to again fight his stubborn battle of old, because of his inborn love of the game.

RESTAURANTEUR HELD UP

Lockport, Apr. 16. — Ernest Pipiles, restaurant proprietor, was held up and robbed of $20 in money and jewelry worth $400 at his home, 32 Sunnyside street, early yesterday. Pipiles was returning home in his automobile and as he entered the driveway of his home three men covered him. He was bound and gagged. The holdup men then took the keys from Pipiles' pocket and entered his home, where they secured the jewelry. The money was taken from Pipiles. Mrs. Pipiles was at home but the holdup men covered her with a gun. The men escaped in Pipiles' car.

Glorious Gospel of Easter Day

By Rev. Stephen Paulson in Cst

And when the Sabbath was past, Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James, and Salome, had brought sweet spices, that they might come and anoint Him. . . . Ye seek Jesus of Nazareth, which was crucified. He is risen; He is not here. Behold the place where they laid Him.—Mark 16.1, 6.

HE Sabbath came and went over the grave of its Lord. Silence reigned in Joseph's garden, broken only by the mailed sentinels who chatted and laughed by the sealed sepulcher. We do not know what the disciples did on the Sabbath day. Probably they spent the day in close retirement in some upper room. Their thoughts were nailed to that Cross on Calvary, and their spirits were under the heavy pall of that tragedy of Good Friday.

We can never understand the utter misery and desolation of those hours between Christ's death and His Resurrection. Our faith rests on the centuries; and when we read of the Crucifixion we have in mind the glory of Easter morning. But to the disciples, all their hopes had been shattered, all their plans frustrated, and all their love buried in Joseph's tomb. A resurrection did not enter into their thoughts at all, and therefore their testimony is the more valuable. True, they had heard Jesus say that He would rise again, but they had interpreted that in a sort of future and symbolic sense.

Before dawn, the women mentioned in our text, perhaps with some others, started for the sepulcher bearing their spices and ointments with which they expected to finish the embalming of the blessed body of their Lord. A resurrection had no place in their thoughts. They came to minister to the dead, not to greet the living. Their one great concern was: Who would help them to roll away the stone which sealed the tomb, and which was too great for their united strength? As they drew near they see that the stone is rolled away, and so little did they think of a resurrection, that the open tomb brought them only perplexity and grief.

The Gospels were not written for the curious, but for the devout. They are most silent therefore, where myth and legend would be most garrulous. Here we are told nothing of the wondrous Resurrection. Did He awake alone? Or was He attended by the heirarchy of heaven? We are told only what concerns mankind, viz., the sufficient manifestation of Jesus to His people of His Resurrection.

We can reconstruct something of the events of that first Easter morning from the Gospel accounts. First the women come and find the tomb empty. Mary Magdalene immediately runs back to the city and tells Peter and John about it. They rush out to the garden of Joseph, John, the younger man, taking the lead. The women have left. Peter enters the tomb, and sees the linen clothes which had covered the body of Jesus, and there begins to dawn upon them something of the meaning of the words of Jesus, "On the third day I shall rise again."

Mary comes back and Peter and John have gone, and no one is there to explain what has taken place; so she stands by the sepulcher and pours out her distress in tears.

Now comes the first revelation of the risen Christ. "Mary," He says, in the well-known voice of love and tenderness, and in a moment all her sorrow is turned into joy. It is always so when the risen Christ comes into a life. The living Christ is the world's great joy-bringer. Without Him, our thoughts can only be thoughts of death. With Him we enter into the conception of the larger life, of which this is only the outer court.

Life! Death! They seem to be the very antipodes of thought. We have come to look upon them as mutually exclusive, but Jesus has taught us that out of life death is to arise.

The Resurrection of Jesus is the anchor of our Christian faith. We live in a day when men seek positive grounds of thought and action, and the enduring power of the Resurrection is not a sentiment but a fact. A sentiment has its day. Phases of mere feeling pass rapidly over the generations of men, like clouds over our heads, but the fact of the Risen Christ remains. In the strength of that certainty Paul went forth to his great missionary labors. In the strength of that, Peter went unafraid to his own crucifixion. In the strength of that, the soldiers of Christ in all ages have stood fast in the faith, quit themselves like men, and endured unto the end.

The Easter Gospel is the Gospel of all comfort. "If Christ be not risen then is our preaching vain, and your faith is also vain." So says St. Paul, and then comes his triumphal shout of certainty: "But now is Christ risen from the dead, and become the firstfruits of them that slept." That is the Gospel of comfort which this world of sorrow and death needs so much. That is the glad and glorious Gospel of Easter Day. Today we seek, not a dead Christ, but a living one, and then, may it soon be our bliss to see the Risen Savior face to face, as did Mary on that very first Easter morning.

STINNES' FORTUNE WILLED TO WIDOW

Admonished, However, to Consult Children in Private and Business Affairs

(By the Associated Press)

Berlin, Apr. 16. — Hugo Stinnes fortune is left to his widow, Claire Stinnes, nee Wagenknecht, who is admonished to consult her sons and daughters in all things affecting the magnate's private and business affairs.

The eldest son, Dr. Edmund Hugo Stinnes, will direct the properties in Ruhr and Rhineland, while Hugo Hermann Stinnes will oversee the family's interests at the headquarters in Berlin and care for the shipping and foreign properties.

Stinnes' advice to his widow and children, given while on his deathbed, was to "stick together" and work for the common good.

Among the delegations attending the funeral services here Monday, were numerous groups representing the varied Stinnes interests in all parts of Germany. Officers from his South American liners stood shoulder to shoulder with mine workers from the Ruhr.

His chief private secretary, Major Osius, who has been seriously ill for several weeks, demanded to be carried past the bier on a stretcher, and made the trip from his sickbed in an ambulance.

Portland, Me., Apr. 16. — The locomotive and first three cars of the passenger train which left here at 10:40 o'clock Monday night for St. John, N. B., from Boston, were derailed at Kingman, Me., Tuesday.

The cars remained upright, but the locomotive was tipped on its side. Baggagemaster J. B. Libby was slightly injured. Settling of the roadbed, due to frost, was believed to have caused the accident.
